ABOUT INDIA AND GANDHINAGAR

India

India is the seventh largest country by area and with more than 1.3 billion people, it is the second most populous country. Bounded by the Indian Ocean to the south, the Arabian Sea to the south-west, and the Bay of Bengal to the south-east, it shares land borders with Pakistan to the west; China, Nepal, and Bhutan to the north-east; and Bangladesh and Myanmar to the east. In the Indian Ocean, India is near Sri Lanka and the Maldives, while its Andaman and Nicobar Islands share a maritime border with Thailand and Indonesia.

India lies within the Indomalaya ecozone and contains three biodiversity hotspots. Many Indian species descend from taxa originating in Gondwana, from which the Indian plate separated more than 105 million years ago. Peninsular India's subsequent movement towards and collision with the Laurasian landmass set off a mass exchange of species.

Gujarat

Gujarat is a state in the western part of India with a coastline of 1,600 km – most of which lies on the Kathiawar peninsula – and a population in excess of 60 million people. It is the sixth largest Indian state by area and the ninth largest state by population. Gujarat is bordered by Rajasthan to the north-east, Daman and Diu to the south, Dadra and Nagar Haveli and Maharashtra to the south-east, Madhya Pradesh to the east, and the Arabian Sea and the Pakistani province of Sindh to the west.

Its capital city is Gandhinagar, while its largest city is Ahmedabad. The Gujarati-speaking people of India are indigenous to the state.

Forest cover accounts for 9.7 per cent of Gujarat's total geographical area. Gujarat has four national parks and 21 sanctuaries. It is the only home of Asiatic Lions and, outside Africa, is presently the only natural habitat of lions. Gir Forest National Park in the south-western part of the state covers part of the lions' habitat. Apart from lions, Indian Leopards are also found in the state.

Gandhinagar

Gandhinagar is the capital of the state of Gujarat and is located approximately 23 km north of Ahmedabad, on the west central point of the industrial corridor between Delhi, the political capital of India, and Mumbai, the financial capital. Often hailed as the greenest capital in India, it is fast emerging as a desirable destination for real estate for Gujaratis.

VENUE

The Thirteenth Conference of the Parties to CMS will be held at the Mahatma Mandir Convention and Exhibition Centre in Gandhinagar, India from 17 to 22 February 2020. Associated meetings will take place on 15 and 16 February. The Mahatma Mandir is a convention and exhibition centre as well as a memorial. It is inspired by the life and philosophy of Mahatma Gandhi. It is one of the largest convention centres of India, spread over 34 acres.

Please note that the food served in the venue is strictly vegetarian and no alcohol will be available. Gujarat is one of the five 'dry' states in India (i.e. where alcohol is not generally available). People from outside Gujarat can bring alcohol into the state and receive a permit to purchase alcohol at specialist stores.

VACCINATIONS

Required & Recommended Vaccinations

The only vaccine required by international regulations is yellow fever. Proof of vaccination will only be required if you have visited a country in the yellow-fever zone within the six days prior to entering India.

The World Health Organization (WHO) recommends the following vaccinations for travellers to India:

Adult diphtheria and tetanus Single booster recommended if none has been given in the previous 10 years. Side effects include a sore arm and fever.

Hepatitis A Provides almost 100 per cent protection for up to a year; a booster after 12 months provides at least another 20 years' protection. Mild side effects such as headache and a sore arm occur in 5 per cent to 10 per cent of people.

Hepatitis B Now considered routine for most travellers. Given as three shots over six months. A rapid schedule is also available, as is a combined vaccination with hepatitis A. Side effects are mild and uncommon, usually headache and a sore arm. Lifetime protection occurs in 95 per cent of people.

Measles, mumps and rubella Two doses of MMR required unless you have had the diseases. Occasionally a rash and flu-like illness can develop a week after receiving the vaccine. Many young adults require a booster.

Polio Only one booster is required as an adult for lifetime protection.

Typhoid Recommended unless your trip is less than a week. The vaccine offers around 70 per cent protection, lasts for two to three years and comes as a single shot. Tablets are also available; however, the injection is usually recommended as it has fewer side effects. A sore arm and fever may occur.

Varicella If you have not had chickenpox, discuss this vaccination with your doctor.

These are recommended only for long-term travellers (more than one month):

Japanese B Encephalitis Three injections in all. Booster recommended after two years. A sore arm and headache are the most common side effects.

Meningitis Single injection. There are two types of vaccination: the quadrivalent vaccine gives two to three years' protection; meningitis group C vaccine gives around 10 years' protection. Recommended for long-term travelers aged under 25.

Rabies Three injections in all. A booster after one year will then provide 10 years' protection. Side effects are rare – occasionally a headache and sore arm.

Tuberculosis Adult long-term travellers are usually recommended to have a TB skin test before and after travel, rather than vaccination. Only one vaccine is given in a lifetime.

Cholera This oral vaccine is recommended for those whose activities or medical history put them at increased risk. If you are going to areas of cholera outbreaks that have limited access to safe water and medical care.
